

National Park Service
U.S. Department of the Interior

Fort Union National Monument
PO Box 127
Watrous, NM 87753

505-425-8025
www.nps.gov/foun

Fort Union National Monument News Release

Release Date: July 7, 2017

Contact: Lorenzo Vigil, lorenzo_vigil@nps.gov, 505-425-8025

Glimpses of the Past: July 20, 2017

“Buffalo Soldiers: The 9th U.S. Cavalry in New Mexico 1876-188”

Watrous, NM: African Americans have served with distinction in every war and conflict of the United States since the American Revolution. However, it wasn't until after the Civil War when more than 200,000 African American soldiers would fight to end the war and cement themselves as effective soldiers in the eyes of the United States Army. On July 28, 1866 Congress enacted legislation that created the first peacetime regiments of African American soldiers in the army. Two of these units were designated the 9th and 10th Cavalry, and would earn the title “Buffalo Soldiers” as a term of respect from the American Indian tribes they'd be thrust against in the West. Join Ranger James Shephard and learn about the history and impact of the legendary Buffalo Soldiers.

This program will be held at the CCHP/Santa Fe Trail Interpretive Center at 116 Bridge Street in Las Vegas, New Mexico on Thursday, July 20, 2017 at 7:00 PM. This program is free in partnership with the Las Vegas Citizens Committee for Historic Preservation and the New Mexico Humanities Council. You can find our free APP in the Apple App Store and on Google Play. Search for Fort Union National Monument. Visit www.nps.gov/foun, or like on us on Facebook at www.facebook.com/FortUnionNM.

WWW.NPS.GOV

About the National Park Service. More than 20,000 National Park Service employees care for America's 413 national parks and work with communities across the nation to help preserve local history and create close-to-home recreational opportunities. Visit us at www.nps.gov, on Facebook, Twitter www.twitter.com/natlparkservice, and YouTube www.youtube.com/nationalparkservice.

EXPERIENCE YOUR AMERICA™

The National Park Service cares for special places saved by the American people so that all may experience our heritage.